50,000,000 FEET OF OTTAWA RIVER LUMBER DESTROYED BY FIRE

SPECTACULAR BLAZE TO-DAY AT BIG LUMBERING CENTRE NEAR HAWKESBURY, ONTARIO

Great Quantity of Lumber Burned, But Mills and Yards on Island in Ottawa River Escaped Destruction; Operations of Hawkesbury Lumber Company Interrupted; Estimates of Loss Run in Millions.

Hawkesbury, Ont., Sept. 9.—More than 50,000,000 feet of lumber, property of the Hawkesbury Lumber Company Limited, was destroyed by fire which broke out this morning in a pile at the west end of the island on which the company's yards, mills and houses are located, just opposite this town, in the Ottawa River.

The loss is set by R. L. Blackburn of Ottawa, managing director, at $7,000,000, which is stated to be well covered by insurance. Other estimates of the loss are lower.

At noon to-day the entire yards had been swept and the lumber destroyed, and the fire was under control.

Luckily for the town of Hawkesbury, the wind was blowing in an opposite direction, for the great cauldron of fire carried parts of burning planks as high as 200 feet in the air and for long distances. The town of Grenville, on the Quebec side, was showered with embers and dust from the burning lumber.

From the outset it was seen the piled lumber was doomed despite efforts of the firefighters.

The attempts to stay the raging conflagration seemed but puny in the face of the great volume of flame and smoke which shot skyward, throwing a pall over the whole district.

MILLS PROTECTED
When it was seen no means available could stay the progress of the fire, steps were taken to protect the four mills, which are located in the centre of the island.

Except for a few isolated piles, the great store of lumber is a total loss. No accidents have been reported.

The island on which the Hawkesbury Lumber Company's yards, mills, piling grounds and houses are located is about seventy-five acres in extent, and of the four mills, three have been running night and day all season, employing about 400 men.

The lumber production of the Hawkesbury Lumber Company during 1924 was 5,000,000 feet.

ESTIMATES VARY
Ottawa, Sept. 9.—Estimates of the loss caused by the fire in the Hawkesbury Lumber Company's yards at Hawkesbury, Ont., this morning vary from $1,000,000, the estimate of the Ottawa Evening Journal, to $7,000,000, the estimate of the Ottawa Evening Citizen.

Officials of the company said they were inclined to believe the latter estimate was much too high, but were unable to say definitely until the books of the company had been checked up.

CANADA'S IMMIGRATION IN THREE MONTHS 32,449 AND 9,141 CANADIANS CAME BACK

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—Immigration to Canada during the first three months of the present fiscal year, that is from April 1 to June 30, totaled 32,449, according to a report issued by the Department of Immigration to-day. In the same three months, 9,141 Canadians who had been in the United States for six months or more, having gone to that country to settle, returned to Canada.

RATE VICTORY NOT MENACED OLIVER FINDS

Equalization Order Will Stand Despite Resolution of Three Commissioners

Judgment Not Attacked in Any Way; Members Wish Free Hand Later

The Railway Commission's recent order equalizing Westbound grain rates will not be affected by the resolution of three members of the commission who did not take part in the judgment.

In other words, British Columbia's recent rate victory will stand. This is the opinion formed by Premier Oliver to-day after he had carefully examined the board's rate order and the resolution of the three commissioners.

"I do not consider that the resolution affects the rate order at all," the Premier stated. "The resolution simply expresses the opinion of the commissioners who did not take part in the judgment that the question of grain rates to the Pacific Coast must be considered at the general rate revision which the Railway Board is undertaking now. I do not consider that this resolution was intended in any way to halt or affect the operation of the order signed by the Chief Commissioner and Commissioner Frank Oliver."

"Any order of the Railway Board, of course, is subject to change as circumstances require. The three commissioners in their resolution do not take the stand that any change in the order is required. They do not say they object to the equalization of rates. They merely say that the whole question must be considered when the national revision is under way as part of the general rate structure of Canada."

The Premier's statement sets aside doubts concerning the permanence of the Railway Board's order which arose as a result of the resolution of the three commissioners.

PERMANENT PAYROLLS AND $1,000,000 WINTER WORK ISSUE FACING RATEPAYERS

Tax Exemption By-law to be Voted on To-morrow Offers Victoria Opportunity to Share in the Great Grain Trade of Canada, for Which Other Cities Are Keen Bidders.

LEADING BUSINESS MEN AND TAXPAYERS ENDORSE PROPOSAL

Shipbuilding Plants and Other Industries of City Will Share in Benefits to Victoria When Grain Begins to Pour Into Elevators Projected for This Port.

By the vote cast on the tax exemption by-law for the Panama Pacific Terminals Limited grain elevator ratepayers of Victoria will decide to-morrow whether $1,000,000 of outside capital shall immediately be spent in Victoria in a project which will give Winter employment in the city and pave the way to a permanent payroll bringing an increased spending power to the city of $250,000 a year.

The $1,000,000 elevator is the first contemplated. A decision of the ratepayers to-morrow to grant tax exemption, business men who have worked for years to establish Victoria as a grain port sharing in Canada's great industry, point out, means other elevators will follow. Upon the issue of Thursday's vote the decision of other capitalists to operate in Victoria depends.

CITY HAS EVERYTHING TO GAIN
Victoria has everything to gain and nothing to lose, as an appeal to the people, signed by representative business men and heavy taxpayers in Victoria, clearly demonstrates. The city makes no sacrifice of taxes because it receives no taxes from the Government owned Ogden Point docks, the site of the proposed elevator. To the world that the tax exemption which other cities are eagerly vying to obtain, Victoria is an pathetic laggard in the industrial race.

ELEVATOR BY-LAW POLL TO-MORROW; MARKET BUILDING

Voting on the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Tax Exemption By-law takes place to-morrow at the Market Building, Commercial Street, the polls being open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening. Only property owners are eligible to vote on this by-law.

City Assessor William Scowcroft has been appointed returning officer, and will have a staff of sixteen clerks at work. In all, the poll requires the services of twenty persons, and will cost the city approximately $300.

Drawing upon his long experience in municipal elections, Returning Officer Scowcroft advises property owners to "Vote early and avoid the rush."

TO THE PEOPLE OF VICTORIA

The Citizens will, on September 10, be called upon to vote their approval or otherwise of the successful culmination of three years' constant effort to establish Victoria as a world grain port of the Canadian Pacific Coast.

IF THE BY-LAW CARRIES

A series of events in rapid succession will probably follow in the order named:

1. Word will at once go out to the world that Victoria has taken its place as one of Canada's Pacific grain ports, and is determined to become an industrial centre on the Pacific Coast.

NEW DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE URGED

Neutral European Countries Represented in League Desire Action

Senator Bostock and Philippe Roy Among Canadians on Committee

Geneva, Sept. 9.—Evidence that the neutral countries of Europe will persistently labor for the early calling of a disarmament conference was given yesterday when former Premier Zahle of Denmark, addressing the Assembly of the League of Nations, urged that the League Council continue preparatory steps for such a conference, and study all the problems connected with disarmament.

The Assembly to-day began general discussion of the Council's report. Viscount Cecil received a great ovation upon his appearance as a delegate after two years' absence.

COMMITTEES NAMED

The Dominions and India are well represented on the various committees, on which the following Canadians will serve: Philippe Roy, Commissioner-General in Paris, committee on technical questions; and W. A. Liddell, Canadian permanent representative in the League, in charge of the Canadian bureau, committee on political questions.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 9.—Col. Wm. Mitchell, deposed Assistant Chief of the United States Army Air Service, and now Eighth Corps area commander, broke his silence of four days again here by issuing a formal statement in which he recommended creation by the next Congress of an aeronautic bureau under a secretary of air and suggested plans for the bureau's operation.

He said the entire national defence should be consolidated under one head, who would be held responsible, but that the department should be divided into three parts under sub-secretaries, army, navy and air.

NO ONE BIG UNION

Proposal Voted Down at Annual Meeting of Trades Union Congress

Scarborough, Eng., Sept. 9.—The radical wing of the Trades Union Congress of Great Britain met with a reverse to-day when its proposal for a reduction in the number of unions and the formation of one big union was defeated by half a million votes.
Representatives of several of the larger unions spoke against the proposal.
Ben Tillett, secretary to the political and international department of the Transport and General Workers Union, one of the strongest supporters of the proposal, twitted the delegates with being conservative-minded.
SHOP COMMITTEES
The extremists later were more successful when a resolution was adopted by a majority of 1,000,000 votes calling for shop committees in all workshops and declaring such committees "indispensable weapons in the struggle to force the capitalists to relinquish their grip on industry."
EQUAL PAY URGED
The Congress yesterday adopted a resolution proposed by Miss Margaret Bondfield in favor of raising the standard of women's wages and working conditions, equal pay for women and men and the admission of women to trades unions on the same terms and with the same privileges as men.

CAMPAIGN STARTED BY MR. MEIGHEN IN WINNHAM, ONTARIO

NATIONAL RAILWAYS

By the Government's railway policy, Mr. Meighen thought Canada was being mortgaged. Under Mr. King's Government, he said, the debt of Canada on the national system had increased by $234,000,000—three-quarters of the whole debt of Canada in 1913.
Mr. King does not like amalgamation and neither do I, he said, "but the fact is, by supplying money in the way he has supplied it, he has deliberately rushed the whole system into a log from which the rescue will be difficult indeed."

If the present Government should be returned to power, the guilf would soon be reached, said Mr. Meighen. "You ask what I would do, I will tell you," he said, "I would stop these new capital investments with a strong hand. The first month I should be in power, there would be no more Scribe Hotels and no more skyscrapers on Yonge Street; there would be no more extravagant golf courses and radio systems here, there and everywhere."
There would be a determined effort to get the last dollar out of the property we have and not keep adding blindly to our obligations and our troubles."

ARRANGED WEEKS AGO

Mr. Meighen opened his speech as follows:
"This meeting was arranged some two weeks ago, but by reason of the fact that an election has been announced, it becomes in a sense a first conservative meeting of the campaign."
"For four years we have been assured times without number by the Prime Minister, Mr. Mackenzie King, that his Government was dealing in a masterly way with the nation's problems, or if not dealing with them, was just about to start dealing with them, and was supported in the House of Commons by large majorities of what he described as men of liberal thought. On Saturday last, however, we got a lot nearer the truth, and in a long oration in North York he confessed to the people of Canada that they could not deal with the problems of the nation at all, and the only reason he could give was that they did not have a sufficient majority in the House. For that reason he said there must be an election. The whole country is relieved because there has at last come to an end the most sterile Parliament this nation has known, and the people of Canada are relieved still more because they feel themselves close to the end of the most feeble and futile Government this Dominion has yet been called on to endure."

DEALT WITH SPEECH

"You will not expect me to occupy any considerable time in making reply to the speech delivered by the Premier on Saturday last. From the first word to the last that speech can be read without finding reference to one single achievement, and for the very good reason that the page of achievements of the King Government is blank. Within the four corners of the speech there was not a single sentence which declared a principle that any practical man could understand. The whole was an opaque mass of ill-founded and contradictory excuse."
"The first half hour was devoted to an endeavor to show how strongly the Government had been sustained by majorities in Parliament. The last half-hour was employed in exhortation."

MAYOR URGES ALL TO VOTE FOR ELEVATOR

By-law granting tax exemption to the proposed grain elevator to be constructed at Ogden Point. If tax exemption is granted to this elevator it does not actually mean any loss of revenue to the city, as at present the Ogden Point piers, being Government property, are already exempt from all taxation.
"The construction of an elevator means the expenditure of a large sum of money in the city and the employment of a considerable number of men. It also means the addition of a handsome permanent payroll to the city and I hope is but the forerunner of a large export grain business which I feel sure can be developed at this port."
"A large number of subsidiary industries naturally follow the establishment of grain elevators and now that we have an opportunity to place Victoria on the map as a grain port, we should see that no obstacle is placed in the way of this development."

BANK LOAN LOW
"Our bank loan shows a striking shrinkage as a result of the action of the ratepayers in supporting the city by early payment, having been lessened by no less than $274,200 as compared with August 31, 1924. At that time the city owed the bank $626,100, while at the close of August 1925 we had current borrowings of only $351,900."

Collections at the City Hall during the first five business days of September have been unusually high payments on account of taxes aggregating $32,900.

ADHERING TO POLICY
In arranging for this long-term financing in Canada rather than in another market the Government has followed the policy that has been almost rigidly adhered to during the last several years. The Victory Loans of 1917, 1918 and 1919 were planned for the Canadian market solely and the refunding loans of 1923 and 1924 were offered in the same manner. Short-term financing, such as one-year note issues have been placed in the United States, where the demand for such short-term bonds is so

A STORY WITHOUT WORDS

BINDERS WHIRRING. RIVULETS OF GRAIN BEGIN TO FLOW

Canada's Golden Crop Now Being Gathered to Feed Millions All Over World

Winnipeg, Sept. 9 (By G. F. Bannerman for Canadian Press).—Binders are whirring through the length and breadth of the Western prairie land as miles of waving grain resolve themselves into golden bundles thrown along stubble-burdened ground.
Myriads of men garnered from every quarter of the far-flung Dominion gather ceaselessly from day to day the richly laden bundles into compact stacks of potential wealth.
Here and there the hum of busy machinery and sharp explosive bursts from labouring gas proclain the first visible source of that mighty river of wheat, the economic life stream of Canada, as it flows in an increasing and unending volume to strategic centres throughout the world whence in millions of rivulets it goes to feed multitudes of hungry mouths.
By what miracle of man does this life giving stream pass from the great spaces of its birth to the distant centres?
Early in the year, before the prospective harvest is more than a carpet of green blades, the servants of the two great railway systems are busily engaged in overhauling and repainting old equipment and securing new to replace the worn-out. Tracks and roadbed are thoroughly gone over and keyed up to the highest of efficiency in order that there may be no weak link in the system. All through the summer the intelligence services of these two companies are almost daily reporting to their respective headquarters upon the crop situation in the many different areas of the Western provinces. They are the heralds in the gigantic drama of the West. Sometimes they herald the grim silent legacies of blighting heat and smiting hail, sometimes extensive and devastating, but happily this year much restricted.
Finally the anxious first whirl of the binders and then in a twinkling orders reach into every division of the railway systems and the mobilization of their motive power is under way. Gradually there is a concentration of locomotives and grain cars at strategic points on the Western lines. The harvest is ready for immediate and rapid distribution on wherever they are needed.
Three hundred and seventy-five million bushels are the recent estimates for the 1925 crop and all this except some 50,000,000 or 60,000,000 bushels must find its way to the outer world through two gateways, Vancouver on the West and Winnipeg on the East. During the next eight weeks wheat will flow with great rapidity from the farmers' wagons into the local elevators. Each station has its quota of these elevators varying in capacity from one to ten according to the surrounding acreage and its productivity. From their bins grain cars are filled daily and long trains of them are now being sent out to the terminal elevators. Here the grain is loaded upon lake and ocean carriers and gradually finds its way to all parts of the world.
This seemingly commonplace task of distributing Canada's wheat to the world is enveloped in intricate problems. The difficulties call for the most careful organization and closest co-operation if the grain is to move steadily and smoothly to its destination. Even the weather affects the flow for it may be that a storm on the lake will hold up a considerable number of the carriers and cause congestion in the elevators, resulting in a loss of time and money to the railways. It speaks well for the organization engaged in the work of distributing the grain that seldom if ever is the steady flow halted.

2. The financing of the Panama Pacific Railway, already sufficient advanced to insure success, will be rapidly completed.
3. The many hundreds of more of farmer shareholders throughout the prairie provinces will have their attention and interest permanently focussed upon this city.
4. Work will start on construction at a very early date, involving the distribution of approximately $1,000,000 in our midst.
5. Upon completion, Victoria will automatically secure terminal grain rates from the Canadian National Railway with all it portends for our future development.
6. There will be a large increase in the influx of prairie farmer shareholders in this enterprise to spend their winter vacation here.
7. Operation will start and furnish employment directly and indirectly for 100 to 200 men, meaning an addition to our population of some 500, and an increased spending power towards our business community of nearly a quarter of a million dollars a year.
8. The poultrymen and dairymen of Vancouver Island should derive a very considerable benefit from the location here of the industry.
9. The company estimate the yearly turnover of grain in this elevator at 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels, which will bring into the city between 10,000 and 15,000 carloads of grain a year.
10. On this same basis it will take fifty steamers of 8,000 tons each calling at this port every year to carry the output of the elevator away in full cargo lots. Vancouver estimates that each such steamer leaves behind it approximately $20,000 in each visit for supplies purchased and money distributed, exclusive of ship repairs. This means $500,000 per year additional distributed in this town. If much of the grain is handled by way of distress parcels on vessels from Puget Sound ports, it means hundreds of boats a year landing at our Outer Wharf.
11. It will mean a big increase in the ship repair work of our local shipbuilding plants and a considerable increase in labor employed.
12. The assembly plant is already under way, made possible by the assurance of elevators in Victoria. The

OLD COUNTRY SUSPENDS BUSINESS

Too Much Stock Cause of Action By Sterling Co.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS IN BUSINESS HERE

Must Raise $18,000 From $45,000 Stock

S. Sterling Company stepped in at the close of business Tuesday last and took charge of the Old Country Shoe Store at 625-7 Johnson Street and to-day, on their appraisers' report, decided to suspend the business and locked up the store.
Notice has been posted that the entire stock of merchandise in this store will be offered for sale by the appraiser at public bid, starting next Friday.
Representatives of the Sterling Company came here to adjust this business and claim that no reasonable bid will be refused for any part or all of the goods, just so that $18,000.00 will be quickly liquidated. Small lots, individual sales and bulk sales to merchants will be taken care of.
The Appraisers for Sterling Company are pricing and tagging every article in the store, so that dealers and the public alike can make rapid selection of any quantities wanted, as this will be a quick and store-wide unloading.
The Old Country Shoe Store has been in business here for about thirty-five years and is one of Victoria's best known bargain centres for boots and shoes. The store specializes in Canadian and English footwear for men, women and children.
It is understood that the terms of sale provide that:
Any merchant, concern or individual is entitled to make Public Bid on bulk or quantity as wanted.
Boots, Shoes and Hosiery are appraised for cash sales, regardless of wholesale or retail—one price to all. Exchanges will be made for cause, but positively no refunds and no deliveries. Mail orders and C.O.D.'s must send postage.
Appraisers' Public Bid Shoe Sale of the Old Country Shoe Store officially opens at 9.30 a.m. Friday, September 11, in the premises at 625 Johnson Street, Victoria, B.C.

CREATES A SENSATION

Takes Over $45,000.00 Shoe Stock

Just cold hard business demands that a top-heavy stock will topple, and so nothing short of a clean sweep, to the bare walls, if necessary, will satisfy me.
I came here and found things in chaos—goods piled up everywhere and loaded to the ceiling—in a word, top-heavy with purchases, at the Old Country Shoe Store.
I must have $18,000.00 to meet my demands from this stock and there is something like $45,000.00 in boots and shoes in the store now. There is but one way to realize this sum, and quickly—that is to sell the merchandise at a price that will compel your immediate attention and action in buying.
Therefore the appraiser has sent out shoppers to get the lowest valuation that like goods can be had for as a basis for a further and drastic price cutting of all boots, shoes and hosiery of the Old Country Shoe Store. Regardless of wholesale costs or any other considerations, this entire stock will be offered at Public Bid by the Appraiser next Friday, stated the representative of Sterling Company yesterday. (Adv.)

IF THE BY-LAW IS DEFEATED

1. It means a permanent advertisement to the world that we are not, and do not want to be an industrial city, and the world of commerce will forget us.
2. It will have a most depressing effect upon property holders and outside investors either in industrial enterprises or real estate.
3. It means the uselessness of further effort to try and build up a greater and better Victoria.
The Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited report rapid progress in their financial arrangements, sufficient subscriptions having already been obtained to enable them, if necessary, to float an assured bond issue to enable immediate construction to commence. It is the intention of the company, however, to secure subscriptions for the entire capital by way of common stock so that holders will not alone supply the money, but assure the constant flow of grain as well. Further than this, the company advise that they have received three offers from Seattle, Chicago and Antwerp interests separately to furnish all the rest of the capital required.
The personnel of the directors is of high standing and should insure the success of the enterprise.
The Dominion Government, before granting the lease, secured the best expert information available to report on the entire proposition, and it was only after the most positive assurances, both as to the feasibility of the scheme itself and the individual standing of the directors, that they were fully convinced that the proposition would be a pronounced success, and they extended their assistance accordingly.
We wish to warn the people of Victoria to beware of powerful outside vested interests who, by subtle methods, disparaging the possibilities of the project, being successfully launched and operated. Absolute proof of this fact and the ulterior motives instigating this agitation are available if circumstances necessitate it for use.
There will be no canvassing for votes. It should not be necessary.
It is the duty of every voter to record his own vote and see that his friends do likewise.

INSURANCE COMPANY TO APPEAL RULING IN EXPORTER LOSS

Vancouver, Sept. 9.—Echoes of the disaster to the steamship Canadian Exporter of the C.G.M.M. Limited, that sank on July 31, 1921, after running on a sand bar at the mouth of the Columbia River at Willapa Bar, Ore., were heard here to-day when notice of a motion of appeal from the decision of the civil courts dismissing the action of the insurance firm and owners of the ship's cargo was filed.
The Canadian Exporter was a 1,000-ton vessel, built in 1911, and was chartered to the C.G.M.M. Limited, which was then a subsidiary of the C.G.M.M. Limited. The ship was carrying a cargo of grain, which was lost when the ship sank. The insurance company, which was the C.G.M.M. Limited, refused to pay for the cargo, and the owners of the ship filed a motion of appeal from the decision of the civil courts dismissing the action of the insurance firm and owners of the ship's cargo was filed.

EXPORTS GROW AND IMPORTS DECREASE

Constructive Trend of Canada's Trade Pointed to by Premier King

Advisory Tariff Board Will be Great Aid, Says Cabinet Head

Erindale, Ont., Sept. 8.—Addressing a large audience of North Peel electors at a picnic here yesterday, Premier King pointed out that under the Liberal administration and despite Mr. Meighen's "blight of pessimism," Canada's exports had increased, and her imports had gone down.

Mr. Meighen had said there must be a protective tariff to keep out imports. Yet, although the present Government had not increased the tariff, imports had declined.

TARIFF BOARD
Mr. King held the proposed tariff advisory board would do much to find a middle course between protection on the one hand and free trade on the other. Agricultural and manufacturing interests would be able to confer to see if some policy could not be found which would be fair to both the East and the West.

"No tariff policy is entitled to be called national business unless it has the interests of the nation at heart," he said.

UNION STRENGTH
Mr. King said there was a rapprochement going on all over Canada. Realignment was taking place and Liberals who had left the fold some years ago were coming back. It was the duty of Liberals everywhere to help on that rapprochement, where possible, and in all constituencies to put up a united fight.

Premier King urged that he be given a substantial majority to enable the Government to carry out its programme on the tariff, on transportation, on immigration and in reform of the Senate. Then he intimated that if the Government's majority in the next House should not be sufficient, he would ask for dissolution a second time.

"If," he declared, "we should again be faced with the situation that has confronted us in the last four years, I would ask another dissolution of Parliament to get this matter straightened out, so we should get a majority sufficient to meet the country's needs."

He was enthusiastically received.

GORDON SPOKE
Hon. G. N. Gordon, new Minister of Immigration, described Mr. Meighen, Conservative leader, as suffering from "exhaustion of thought" and defaming the industry of Canada until people were afraid to go into business.

Mr. Gordon added trade had never been such as it was to-day; unemployment had never been so limited as it was to-day. He cited six companies as having increased the net value of their stock by $100,000,000. "We are on the upward trend," he declared.

Speaking of immigration, he declared he had the word of the Premier that an active immigration movement would be inaugurated which would bring in people of the right class.

Senator Pardee, speaking as a member of the Upper House, declared some reform of the Senate would do good.

NO ANNEXATION MOVE
Toronto, Sept. 8.—"Canadians are no more thinking of annexation to the United States than citizens of the United States are thinking of annexation to the British Empire," said Premier King at the directors' luncheon on "International Day" of the Canadian National Exhibition here yesterday.

Mr. King added amid laughter that the idea of annexation of Great Britain and the United States was one he would prefer to see brought about before the joining of Canada to the United States was considered.

The premier said that so far as he was concerned, he would oppose with all his might the idea of annexation of Canada to the United States.

Man Posing as Bishop is Exposed

Rome, Sept. 8.—An audacious attempt to pay a Holy Year visit to Rome proved the undoing of a Polish soldier of fortune, John Tarnowski, who for twenty years had been an ecclesiastical impostor in cities of Europe.

Tarnowski was arrested when he aroused the suspicions of the priest of a Polish church to whom he posed as a monsignor.

In 1914 he successfully posed in Italy as the Bishop of Warsaw, later being expelled from the country.

Although by profession a cook, the false priest is dignified, has perfect manners, a thorough knowledge of church history and ritual, and speaks half a dozen languages.

The premier said that so far as he was concerned, he would oppose with all his might the idea of annexation of Canada to the United States.

Their Future

If your boy or girl could speak now with the wisdom of later years, they would ask above all else for education—for knowledge of a business or profession which would give them a fair chance in the keen competition for success.

You want your child to be equipped as others are; and perhaps you are working to that end.

Why Not Make Your Plans Secure?

Why not provide, as many parents are now doing, that, "no matter what happens," your boy or girl will have a fair start in life? Let us tell you how this is done through the new Canada Life

Educational Policy

This contract brings into existence a life insurance fund for educational expenses, to be held in trust at interest. This fund cannot be used or converted, except by you, but when your boy or girl is, say, eighteen years of age, it can be paid in any number of separate amounts required, six months apart, or in monthly cheques, to cover the vital years of training.

You have probably thought this matter over many times. Here is a chance to do something—tangible, immediate—yet quite easy. We will send a proposal giving more complete information. A request will place you under no obligation.

You can guarantee funds for those vital years of training—for your boy or girl.

TO RATEPAYERS

CERTAIN ELEMENTS

Outside this city are strongly hostile to the development of Victoria as a grain export port. They tried to divert the project from here to the Mainland when it was first proposed. A vigorous but futile attack was made upon it while the question of a site was under consideration by the Government at Ottawa and Sir Henry Thornton. It is of vital importance to this community, therefore, that every ratepayer should vote to-morrow in favor of the concession sought by the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited. As we have pointed out several times, the city derives no taxes from the Ogden Point property as it stands, because it belongs to the Dominion Government.

This is the first practical project for converting that locality, on which a vast sum has been spent, into a scene of industrial activity, involving a big expansion in shipping, frequent car-ferry connection with the Mainland, the operation of a branch of the Grain Board in Victoria and a large increase in the capital wealth and current income of the city. The construction of the elevator itself will call for an expenditure of more than a million dollars. The Canadian National Railways will spend a further substantial sum in establishing a ferry slip and providing the necessary car trackage, which, with other conditions agreed to by the railway company in the way of freight rates and car service, reflect Sir Henry Thornton's confidence in the soundness of the project as a business proposition.

The Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited is composed mainly of prairie farmers, which in itself is a guarantee that it will be kept filled. Its directors are men of the highest repute, with a thorough knowledge of the grain trade. No new industry of such promising possibilities could be launched in this city under more favorable auspices. Does Victoria want it? We are confident it does and that it will say so to-morrow so definitely and decisively as to show that it is wholeheartedly behind the project.

We certainly are not going to drive this project to the Mainland where it would be received with open arms and a ninety-nine-year exemption from taxation. By doing this we would be announcing to the world that Victoria does not want to share in the grain export business of western Canada; a business which with better freight rates is bound to insure tremendous development in those ports on this coast sufficiently wide awake to go after it. And such an announcement would be suicide. Take no chances to-morrow. Start a new industry and help to put this city on the map.

WHO ARE THEY?

A CIRCULAR ATTACK. Ogden Point was distributed through the mail to-day. It is sponsored by "Ratepayers," whose names are not given, and embodies an article criticizing the proposal for tax exemption by one Archibald B. Clark, who describes himself as Professor of Political Economy in the University of Manitoba. The Times is informed that Prof. Clark is not even a resident of the city. Whether "Ratepayers" are taxpayers or residents of Victoria we can not say, since for their own reasons they have not disclosed their names.

Who are these people representing in this attempt to prevent the establishment of this elevator here and divert it to the Mainland? What is behind it? Who is paying for the circular? And are there not enough unsolved problems in Winnipeg to occupy the talents of the "Professor of Political Economy" without concerning himself with those of Victoria in which he has no substantial interest? Who invited him to interfere? The people of Victoria, we are sure, would be interested in the answers to these queries?

JOHN M. LANGLEY

IN THE PASSING OF JOHN

Mount Langley this community has lost a citizen who gave the best years of his life to the public service in provincial and municipal fields. First associated with the police of the Province, in which branch of the law enforcement organization he had an honored record, afterwards for twenty-two years Chief of Police in this city, the late Mr. Langley was able to look back upon a career of which any man might well be proud. A thoroughly efficient officer in every sense of the term, scrupulous to a degree, lacking nothing in ability to understand and appreciate the frailties of human nature, his wise counsel was ever available to the younger and less experienced members of the force over which he presided. Since he was born in Victoria and spent the whole of his life in British Columbia he was an outstanding authority upon provincial matters as far as they were related to his own particular calling. This knowledge was always a valuable factor in those joint enterprises which brought officers of the law from the other side of the line to British Columbia. Apart from the duties of his office, moreover, the late Mr. Langley took a keen interest, in so far as the exactions upon his time and talents permitted, in all matters pertaining to the general welfare and advancement of the community in which he was born and lived. On this account also his passing will be keenly felt by all those who knew him and The Times extends its condolences to the bereaved relatives.

MR. MEIGHEN HAS

NOTHING NEW

ONE HAS ONLY TO look over the newspaper files for the period which immediately preceded the general election of 1921 to discover that the programme of policies which Mr. Meighen is submitting to the electorate of this country at the present time differs in no important particular from the programme upon which he made his woefully unsuccessful appeal for endorsement four years ago. He is advocating nothing new. The people's verdict at that time seems to have left him as blind to the popular will as he chooses to be to the country's improved and continually improving condition under policies which the electorate ordered in 1921. By-elections in the interim, most of them contested on issues which divided the appeal of the parties four years ago, similarly have apparently left no impression upon the Conservative leader. What more bitter lessons could be required than the emphatic voice of St. Antoine and West Hastings? Yet he clings to the old platform which the electorate kicked over so completely that it sent no more than fifty-one Tories to a House of 235 members.

The truth of the matter is the people of this country refuse to swallow the gloom which Mr. Meighen and his Party henchmen have been dispensing in such large doses for many months past. The "whisper of death" propaganda left them cold, so cold, in fact, that the lugubrious journal which set this funeral march nearly two years ago has considerably brightened up its own outlook in the face of pretty trenchant criticism from other newspapers of a similar political stripe. It is not surprising. There are many tangible signs that the condition of the country at the present time is rather something to be proud of than to be ashamed of. The protectionist argument does not hold. Its supporters, however, can not escape the charge that they have always attached a great deal of importance to the country's balance of trade, pointing to it as the one reliable economic barometer. What are the facts? For the year ending June, 1921, our business finished up on the right side to the extent of $28,025,146. For the year ending with June of this year that favorable balance, under the Mackenzie King regime, had grown to no less a sum than $269,650,000. Where is the blue ruin in this condition?

It is well understood, of course, that a good deal of the gloom of Mr. Meighen emanates from influences seeking special privileges. But if the voter wants to know how much justification there is for their demand for still more of the Meighen tariff policy, he can turn to the stock market and obtain the opinion of experts who buy their shares. Following is a table of twenty-three Canadian com-cens showing share values in 1921

and at the present time:

	1921	1925
Bank of Montreal	$215.00	$286.00
Royal Bank	$205.00	$259.00
Canadian Bank of Commerce	198.00	208.00
Canadian Pacific	141.00	145.00
Imperial Oil	100.00	112.00
National Trust	270.00	225.00
Toronto General Trust Corp'n	201.00	214.00
Canadian Mining and Smelting Co.	21.00	121.00
Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines	8.00	16.10
International Nickel Company	17.00	34.00
Dominion Textile Company	142.00	255.00
Panama Ltd.	89.50	158.00
Canadian Cottons Limited	55.00	119.50
"Canada Bread Co.	27.00	151.00
Imperial Canada Ltd.	89.00	150.00
"City Dairy Co.	100.00	360.00
Dominion Canners	45.00	136.00
Dominion Glass Co.	64.50	109.00
"Ogilvie Flour Mills Company	214.00	525.00
Steel Company of Canada	64.50	89.00
Spanish River Pulp and Paper Co.	88.25	103.00
Sherwin Williams Company	58.00	130.00
Dominion Bridge Company	92.00	99.00

In the case of the three concerns against which an asterisk appears reorganization has been carried out since 1921, so that equivalent figures are given. It is obvious, however, that none of these representative Canadian enterprises seems to be suffering. The stock market opinion shows them to be in a much healthier condition than they were when Mr. Meighen went to the country in 1921. There are dozens of other equally convincing proofs that Canada is doing very well indeed.

GAS CHARGES

To the Editor:—After reading "Citizen's" letter in your issue of September 3, re gas charges, I would like to add my protest. After using gas for a number of years with an average monthly bill of sixty cents for winter, I am informed that my bill for the future will be a minimum of $1, plus meter rent, 25c. I think it is poor policy on the part of the R.C.E.R., especially after their recent efforts to reduce the rate, to impose such a heavy burden on the consumer. I personally am one customer lost to them. It is bad enough to have to pay meter rent, but to pay for gas not used is unreasonable.

ANOTHER CITIZEN.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 3.

WATER CHARGES

To the Editor:—On the first inst., I wrote you referring to water charges to consumers in Saanich and city, pointing out that charges to consumer in the city were somewhat less than in Saanich, but that otherwise the reverse is the case; giving instances of received city water bills $4.64 and $5.39, which in Saanich would be $12.00. I received same quantities water, but $4.32 and $7.15 respectively. In the one case an advantage of thirty-two and in the other of $1.06 in favor of Saanich consumer.

The following are similar comparative figures in connection with an Esquimalt industry. The Industrial Company of Esquimalt, paying at the rate they have always paid—paid for their month's supply of water $45.00. For the same quantity the city rate is 49.89; and the Saanich, advanced rate, is $39.52.

A. E. TODD, Alderman.

September 3, 1925.

WATER COST

To the Editor:—The cost of water to Victoria depends upon the cost of the installation of the water supply operation. The wholesale price to other municipalities will be governed by these costs as further influenced by the law of supply and demand, or by competitive prices for similar service in other places.

If Victoria's installation can be shown to have been wisely done, and her service to be better than that of other municipalities, she should be able to charge a higher rate. If, however, the installation was carried out in a haphazard manner, and the wholesale cost somewhat in excess of those figures, it would be reasonable to expect that the city should be able to charge a lower rate. I have no criticism on the cost of installation, but I do have a criticism on the cost of the water supply operation. The cost of the water supply operation is the cost of the water supply operation. The cost of the water supply operation is the cost of the water supply operation.

Before the city had a clear cut policy on the price of irrigation water along that line, the inducement would have been stronger to go to the country. If a watered and paid for, so as to nothing out of that great main already installed in the arid country to the west, how could we expect either the city or Saanich to make anything of the case? The water supply operation of another main pushed through to the north end of the Saanich peninsula?

I would like some information: 1. Why has Victoria never pushed the sale of water throughout that parched country along the miles of pipe-line to Sooke Lake? I once seriously considered taking up a piece of land along this pipe-line, but found that water for irrigation would be a matter of special contract with Victoria, and would likely cost nearly twenty cents per acre-foot. If the city had a clear cut policy on the price of irrigation water along that line, the inducement would have been stronger to go to the country.

2. I would like to know how much water in excess of the 600 cubic feet is used per year by all homes in the city, up to and including six-roomed houses on the ordinary 50-foot lots. Possibly the system of meters could be exchanged for a graduated flat rate with a considerable saving to the city. Ordinary water rates around Vancouver are about two-thirds of the price here.

George Hannay Who Escaped

Guard at Duncan Faces Old Charge

George Hannay, former Provincial police officer at Nanaimo elected trial by jury when he appeared before Judge Lampman in the County Court this morning on a two-year-old charge.

Hannay was recently rearrested after a long spell of freedom which he secured in a getaway at Duncan, where he eluded his guard after begging permission to telephone in an anteroom of the courthouse.

The ex-officer, who at one time had a good record in the Provincial force, but has since landed in the coils of the law himself, was committed for trial at Duncan, September 4, on a charge of breaking and entering the shop of George Jones at Nanaimo, December 25, 1922, and stealing a quantity of confectionery and cigars.

After electing trial by jury, defence stated that at Duncan he had asked for a copy of the warrant on which he was arrested. A. M. Johnson, K.C., appearing for the Crown, declined the copy would be supplied.

Hannay will be tried at the Nanaimo Assizes, which will be held in October.

CAMPAIGN STARTED

BY MR. MEIGHEN IN

WINGHAM, ONTARIO

plaining to the electors that because the Government had not a sufficient majority in Parliament it had been utterly unable to attack the great policy in this Dominion was tariff policy. In 1921 I took my stand definitely and firmly on this issue and challenged the official programme of the House of Commons. I was elected to the House of Commons as a Progressive Party. Mr. King flinched this issue. He flinched it in the Maritime Provinces under another pretence, in Quebec under another pretence, in Ontario, and in the West under another pretence. He flinched it in the West under another pretence. He flinched it in the West under another pretence.

The method of showing Mr. King's Government had gained public confidence was characteristic of the Premier. Why, he said, when Parliament opened we had only a majority of one, and when the Speaker in the chair, we had none at all. "Now," he declared, "we have a majority of one even with the Speaker in the chair."

"Everybody in Canada knows why he has that majority of one. His party, instead of having more members elected by the people, as has happened nearly always the case while governments have held office, has less than it had before. The only party in the House of Commons which has had more members elected by the people than it has before is the Progressive Party. Mr. King has a majority of one because two counterfeit Progressives, Mr. Hammel of Muskoka and Mr. Binette of Prescott, abandoned the Progressive Party. They were elected to support, and walked across the floor. This conduct is what the Premier proclaims and boasts of as an increase of public confidence."

MAJORITIES ON VOTES

"But," he says, "after all we have had great majorities. This Government," he says, "has been a Parliament of large majorities."

"If," he says, "the case may I quietly ask what more in the world did he need? It is true his majorities were mostly Progressives, but did he not tell you and did he not declare in every speech in Western Canada that the Progressive platform and principles were identical with his own? He conducted his whole election in 1921 by courting a tremendous alliance, and he is going to conduct this one in exactly the same way if the Progressives allow him to do so."

SAYS ANSWER KNOWN

"How is it, may I ask again, that though he obtained the votes of the Progressives throughout the divisions of the last Parliament, he could not enforce his principles if his principles were the same as theirs? The answer everybody knows. In the first place, the principles he proclaimed in 1921 were only adopted in order to catch Progressive votes. The ridiculous imposture in which Mr. King found himself during the whole term of his Parliament was merely the product of his own dishonest campaign. The great national issue which he says must be settled could not be settled along the lines to which he committed his party. If they could have obtained the votes of the Progressives in Parliament by which his programme could have been translated into law, he complained that the Conservative Party wanted him to move in one direction and the Progressive Party in another direction. That is absolutely true. The direction was pointed out by the Progressives, and he was to follow it. The solution advocated by us in every case was the solution which he for years opposed. The Progressives have nothing more to say than that he perform in office what he had pledged himself to in opposition. The futurity, the hopeless deadening impotence of the last Parliament was nothing

SPEECHES OF PESSIMISM

"I take a moment of your time to refer to that part of the speech which found fault with myself. He told the people of North York that your humble servant who is addressing you now was the principal cause of the country's calamities. According to Mr. King, I am a cause of tremendous calamities. Now, I make affect the destiny of hundreds of thousands of people. The citizens of Canada are getting on, according to Mr. King, wonderfully well; they are prosperous and happy under his beneficent rule, but my speeches are so powerful that they are convinced they are not getting on at all, so they resign their positions, sell their homes, pack up their belongings and make for the United States."

RAISED THEIR TARIFFS

Dealing with the tariff, Mr. Meighen said that while fifty-five other countries had been raising their tariffs, Canada, under Mr. King, had been reducing hers.

"We know after bitter experience," he said, "that the only thing for us to do is to get up and stand on our feet, adopt the methods which have brought the United States where it is to-day, stand by those methods in fruit and vegetables, but never proposed one of them to Parliament."

DECLARES FOR HIGH TARIFF

In conclusion Mr. Meighen stated that it was the proposal of the Conservative party "that we pin our faith to a self-reliant and unmistakable protective policy on behalf of the whole country, put into effect a Canadian First policy in every sphere of our agricultural and commercial life, and we propose as well that the entire Dominion shall bear a share of the transport of Eastern and Western products over the long distances which divide us now. We propose in that way to bring the Maritime Provinces closer industrially to Ontario and Quebec, and we intend to bring the Western provinces closer to the East. With industry stimulated, production further removed and railway revenues improved, the Dominion will be well able, and the Dominion will be ready, to help the provinces further removed and all feel that the burden of one is the burden of the whole, that the success of one is the success of the whole."

LENGTHY DEBATES

The people of Canada, and especially the members of the last Parliament, will read with a smile and interest the Premier's statement that the debates last session were too long. I think myself some of them were too long, and I said so in the House, but the rules of the House were such that I was not allowed to say so. I think myself some of them were too long, and I said so in the House, but the rules of the House were such that I was not allowed to say so.

TARIFF DISCUSSION

For many years I have sought earnestly to impress upon the people of Canada that the great subject of policy in this Dominion was tariff policy. In 1921 I took my stand definitely and firmly on this issue and challenged the official programme of the House of Commons. I was elected to the House of Commons as a Progressive Party. Mr. King flinched this issue. He flinched it in the Maritime Provinces under another pretence, in Quebec under another pretence, in Ontario, and in the West under another pretence. He flinched it in the West under another pretence.

FOUR PROBLEMS

"But already the same old methods are at work. There are four problems, Mr. King says, which must be decided—transportation, immigration, tariff policy and Senate reform. Anything at all to mix the issue up. Anything at all to obscure the record of those barren years. I put this question to each one of you, and I put it to the people of Canada: Is there any person in this Dominion, either man or woman, who knows to-day what the Government wants done on this transportation question, what the Government wants done on immigration and what the Government wants done on Senate reform? Can any human being define now what the Government's policy is on any one of the three? Mr. King says he wants a mandate on these three. What does he want a mandate to do? He has not told us, and he is not going to tell us."

On transportation he says there are many things that can be done by legislation which would be for the benefit of the C.P.R. and the National system and the public as well. If so, the same policy commensurate why has he left four years go by and never proposed one of them to Parliament?

In the old days Mr. King used to boast of what he would do for the farmers of Canada. Mr. Meighen continued, but his Australian treaty had dealt a cruel blow to Canadian agriculture. He had allowed Australia to keep in effect an utterly prohibitive tariff against Canadian farm products. In fruit and vegetables, he said the same thing would happen as soon as Australia should ratify the treaty.

The audience in the Arena numbered about 3,000.

Major Willis of Wingham welcomed the Conservative leader on behalf of the town.

The first speech of the afternoon was delivered by Hon. J. Lyons, Minister of Lands and Forests of Ontario.

CANDIDATE IN PORTAGE

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—N. K. Boyd, president of the Manitoba Provincial Conservative Association, stated in a letter from Hon. Arthur Meighen, Federal Conservative leader, would probably be a candidate in Portage la Prairie. Mr. Boyd stated he had letter from Mr. Meighen stating he had "very strong feeling that he cannot run elsewhere except in Portage la Prairie," though many people wanted him to run for a Winnipeg seat.

The Portage la Prairie convention is set for September 17.

The cast of "Lightnin'" is splendid. Edythe Chapman as Mother Jones and J. Farrell MacDonald as the love smitten Judge Lemuel Townsend, give characterizations that add much to the production. Madge Bellamy as Mollie is more effective than ever and Wallace MacDonald makes a very impressive sweetheart. Others in the cast, all of whom are excellent are Otis Harlan, James Marcus, Richard Travers, Ethel Clayton and Brandon Hurst.

HOOT GIBSON HAS ROMANTIC ROLE IN PICTURE

Probably Ben Johnson never had heard the old saying about a cat looking at a king; had he, he would have envied the cat after he attempted to exchange a few passing words with the beautiful girl who looked up and down in scorn as he rode his sorry nag into her yard and asked for a drink.

Ben Johnson was only a ragged shepherd and the horse he rode belonged to his boss, old Vasquez, while the girl, although he did not know it, was the daughter of one of the richest cattle barons in the whole country.

But there came the time when the girl realized that the shepherd was the only power that stood between herself and the gravest peril a woman could face. The manner in which the young man acquitted himself is told in thrilling realism in "The Saddle Hawk." Universal production now being shown at the Columbia Theatre.

Marian Nixon is the leading woman of the picture, which is a stirring story of life on a big cattle range, directed by Edward Sedgwick. Others in the cast are Frank Campeau, Josie Sedgwick, G. Raymond Nye, Charles K. French, William Steele, Fred Humes and Tote Dugrow.

WILL MARSHALL

One of the gifted comedians with the Coliseum Theatre patrons who scores one of the greatest successes of his career in his screamingly funny role in "Ebenzer" this week.

"A SON OF HIS FATHER" HAS A SPLENDID CAST

"A Son of His Father," Harold Bell Wright's first novel to be produced as a Paramount picture—a Victor Fleming production—at the Dominion Theatre all the week, has a capital cast of principal players.

Bessie Love, Warner Baxter and Raymond Hatton are featured in the leading roles of the production, which was written for the screen by Anthony Colclough.

In "A Son of His Father," Bessie Love, in the role of the Irish miss, Nora O'Brien, who, after the death of her mother, journeys to Tucson, Arizona, to live with her brother on a ranch, plays a part superior to anything she has ever done before. It was in this type of role that Miss Love made her first appearance. According to advance reports you'll fall in love with Love in this picture.

Warner Baxter appears for the first time in a western role in this picture. Not, however, in a wild and woolly cowboy role, but rather as a western really is.

Raymond Hatton—you remember him in "Adventure" and "In the Name of Love"—as Baxter's college chum Charlie Grey from Philadelphia, has a part that enables him to be even funnier than the fans found him in either of the two aforementioned pictures.

Walter McGrath stands out at the head of the strong supporting cast in a more heavy role. Charles Stevens, Carl Stockdale, Billy Eugene, Valentina Zema and George Kuwa all have true-to-type roles.

It was Victor Fleming who directed the first Zane Grey Paramount production, "To the Last Man." You know what he did with that! Now see how he has handled Harold Bell Wright's latest and finest story of the ever-changing West.

VICTOR EDMUNDS TO SING SATURDAY AT MEMORIAL HALL

Native Son Who Has Established an Envyable Reputation, Will Be Heard in Recital

Victor Edmunds, native son, who has won renown in the concert world, and who is now visiting here after a lengthy sojourn in California, will give a recital in the Anglican Memorial Hall on Saturday, September 12.

But four years have elapsed since this popular tenor decided to join the professional ranks of singers, and he has since made a great reputation for himself.

In 1920, under the heading, "Romance of a Victoria Singer," The Times predicted in its music columns that Victor Edmunds would some day be numbered among the great singers of the present day.

To-day, he not only commands attention, but his position is most enviable, and his programmes are of the highest standard. In the forthcoming recital there can be no doubt of the reception he will receive at the hands of his fellow citizens and, as a tribute to his work and ambitions, a large audience at the Memorial Hall is anticipated on Saturday.

Mrs. Clifford Wain will act as accompanist.

The plan of seats is now open, and tickets are offered for sale at Fletcher Bros' music house.

VICTORIA GIRL TO SING OPERA AT METROPOLITAN

Miss Bertha Hartman Chosen For Season in New York

Miss Bertha Hartman, a native Victoria girl, has been accepted and will sing in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, this season.

News of Miss Hartman's success in the opera world reached Victoria to-day. Out of 900 trained singers from every part of United States and Canada tried out for this season's operas, Miss Hartman was one of the thirty-five accepted. She has now been placed with the Metropolitan stars in training for the opening of the opera season.

Miss Hartman's voice is an operatic contralto.

Her early musical education was given her by local teachers, after which she went to Chicago and then to New York. In Chicago, while in singing school, she was featured at one of the big solo concerts.

Her father was the late Dr. Hartman of this city. Her mother is now with her, and her two brothers in New York city. One brother, Dr. Leroy L. Hartman, is now professor of oral surgery in Columbia University, New York city. The other brother, Albert Hartman, Ph.D., is an executive in the legal branch of the Title Guarantee and Trust Co., Wall Street.

HUMOR AND GLOOM FEATURE NEW FILM OF CHARLIE CHAPLIN

"The Gold Rush" at N.Y. Opening, Not His Finest, But Proves to be Top Notcher

New York, Sept. 9.—"The Gold Rush," though a vastly entertaining picture, is not Charlie Chaplin's finest.

As seen at the New York opening it seemed in spots loosely assembled, and here and there a bit labored, as if Charlie had indulged his brain a little too much over some of the gags.

More than any other screen personage Charlie expresses himself in this, and in "The Gold Rush" this self-revelation is extraordinary. It is absolutely consistent with his personality and methods that the picture should preclude the comedy with a note of gloom and grimness. For it was thus that the comic humor was evolved in Chaplin's own life—from gloomy and painful beginnings.

He begins "The Gold Rush" with a straight dramatic suggestion of the icy horror and travail of the Chilkoot Pass—the dreadful ordeal of the early Alaskan stampedes.
It is a great conception—Charlie as a tramp prospector, chasing the fabled gold, shuffling along beside the gold-crazed horde, but utterly remote from the mere metal grubbers.
Blithely he goes slithering around terrible crevasses, eventually to blunder into a fortune with a half-cracked sourdough while the Chilkoot takes deadly toll of the earnest plodders. And after the picture has been viewed, one thinks back on the title as a mouthful of irony, with the marks of Charlie's shoes and bamboo cane in the snow as a sardonic trail of mockery. Such is the flavor of the humor in this piece—a thing to make wise men and fools in laughter, confounding each a little with the ribald jests that are Chaplin's own patent.

The "gags" in this picture, the obviously funny business, seem in "The Gold Rush" more of a sop to those who must laugh at any cost, than in his previous pictures. And there are some obvious warmed-over tricks of earlier production. Of the new ones the incomparable dance of the bread rolls, made to resemble Charlie's floppy shoes, and manipulated by forks in his hands, is the most sparkling novelty. Charlie's wistful love for a dance hall girl, agreeably played by Georgia Hale, is funny to the point of tears.
Mack Swain, who plays Charlie's hard prospector chum, gives an exceedingly fine and funny performance. They are a great team in a picture of top merit.

IMMIGRANT RUSSIANS MAY HAVE DIFFICULTY IN LANDING IN CANADA

Empress of Asia, Docking Here This Afternoon, Has Party of Russians on Board; Regulations Call for Vised Passports.

With the arrival of the C.P.S.S. Empress of Asia, this afternoon from the Orient, a party of 110 Russian immigrants are seeking admission into Canada, following in the wake of other parties that arrived during the year.

Except by special authority from Ottawa immigrants may secure admission into Canada only when they come direct from the land of their birth, or armed with passports properly issued by a British consul at some foreign port.

The difficulty of landing in the past has been due, it is said, to the fact that the intending immigrants came to this coast after periods of residence in China, and without the necessary passports.

In some instances Ottawa has authorized their admission under special circumstances, and in others the immigrants had to return to China, until they had complied with the requirements.

All intending to take passage are notified of what is expected of them, it is stated, but their desire to land in the new world has in some cases led to the immigrants taking a chance on gaining admittance here after they had crossed the Pacific.

The immigration authorities here admit the difficulty of the "White" Russians who, exiled from their own country after the Bolshevik upheaval, have little opportunity of securing passports in due form, and are precluded by circumstances from arriving here direct from the land of their birth. Special rulings from Ottawa have been made on most of the cases handled so far, and may also apply in this instance, it is thought likely.

HAS GOOD CARGO
The Asia is carrying 2,500 tons of general cargo, including a valuable shipment of silk for the Canadian Pacific Railway silk train at Vancouver.

For the first time since the recent troubles in China she is manned by a Chinese crew, recruited by contract on her last trip to Orient ports. The Asia assisted the Empress of Russia in carrying a crew for her between Orient ports.

Despite delay the big liner is traveling almost on schedule and is carrying 250 passengers in her cabins. Approximately 1,000 tons of her cargo is for transshipment via Pacific ports, and a further 1,000 tons are for rail shipment east, including the silk consignments for New York and New Jersey mills.

The Empress of Russia and the Empress of Canada are now loading at Orient ports.

ELECTION OF J. R. COLLEY IS CONFIRMED

Courts Throw Out Case Designed to Unseat Kamloops Member of House

No Illegality in His Election, Chief Justice Hunter Decides

Vancouver, Sept. 9.—Second of the two suits to unseat J. R. Colley, Liberal M.P.P. for Kamloops, was dismissed by Chief Justice Hunter yesterday.

Hearing that the Conservatives intended to bring proceedings on which a substantial claim for penalties could be based, the Liberals arranged to have Samuel Drake Institute a friendly suit. Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald tried the issue and held Mr. Colley was not disqualified by reason of a certain contract to supply hay and feed to the Public Works Department in the Kamloops district.

Later the Conservatives got chafed at the delay and on the ground that the first action was a "sham" got it down to trial before the Chief Justice, who held there was no fraud in the election action.

He reached the same conclusion as Mr. Justice McDonald on the merits.

News of legal decision on Mr. Colley's seat in the Legislature was received here with great satisfaction by Liberals to-day. The Government had felt that Kamloops was a safe Liberal seat in any case, but the decision of the court makes a by-election unnecessary.

As vice-chairman the Assembly elected Viscount Ishii of Japan, Foreign Minister of Brazil, Senor Zúñiga of Venezuela, Foreign Secretary of Argentina, Senor Ed. Dowling of Peru, and Foreign Minister of Rumania. These men, with the chairman of the six committees will form the steering committee of the Assembly.

STATUS OF SEIZURE BEYOND SEALIMIT WILL BE REVIEWED

U.S. Departments in Accord in Seeking Court Determination of Issue

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Department of Justice and the Treasury have reached an agreement looking to determination by the Supreme Court of the rights of United States prohibition authorities under the liquor treaties.

It is announced, in several cases decided against the Government involving the seizure of foreign craft outside of the twelve-mile limit.

A divergence of view has been disclosed among federal judges on the question involved, and while there has been no set-back to the part of the coast-guard in seizing ships suspected of being rum smugglers, it has been known since that the Treasury desired a final court review.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—The river level dropped last month to the lowest point it has reached in August since the thirty-foot channel was completed in 1908. The chief cause of the lowness of the water, it is claimed, is Chicago's diversion from the Great Lakes.

The level in the Lachine Canal is lower than it ever was, canal officials said to-day.

WHALERS RETURN FROM KYUKUOT STATION, WHICH HAS BEEN CLOSED DOWN

Ss. Green and St. Lawrence Back in Port; Orion Transferred to Naden Harbor, Which With Rose Harbor Station Will Continue in Operation Until End of Month.

Back from the whaling grounds on the shut down of the Kyukot station for the remainder of this season the whaling trawlers Green and St. Lawrence are now alongside the wharves of the Consolidated Whaling Company here. The Orion has been transferred to the Naden Harbor station in the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Operations, stated Capt. G. Le Marquand to The Times to-day, will continue until the end of this month at both Rose and Naden Harbors before the season is over for the year. Due to a variety of causes, whaling was not as successful this year as in the past.

Stormy seas accounted for poor catches. Operating from Naden and Rose Harbor in the Queen Charlotte Islands the remaining vessels of the fleet will finish out the season.

STRIKE LEADS TO OPEN SPEECHES IN SOUTH AFRICA

T. J. Roos, Minister of Justice, Favors State-owned Shipping

Pretoria, S.A., Sept. 9.—T. J. Roos, Minister of Justice, in a speech Tuesday contended that the South African Government could not be expected to cope with the unofficial strike of British seamen which, he said, was a world-wide movement. The Minister asserted that he considered the strike had been caused by the shipowners, who, he declared, had made millions and still saw justice in pulling a pound a month off the men's wages. If the strike had taught South Africa nothing else, the Minister said, certainly it had taught the necessity of state-owned shipping.

WHISKY SCHOONER SUNK BY GUNFIRE
Canadian Craft Caught Fire While Being Towed by U.S. Patrol Boat

Providence, R.I., Sept. 9.—While being towed from New London to Providence this morning by a United States coast guard cutter, patrol boat, the Canadian schooner Dawn, out of Lunenburg, N.S., laden with 800 cases of choice whisky, caught fire off Block Island and was sunk by gunfire from the patrol boat.

The Dawn, when towed from the beach where she had grounded at Saunders Town yesterday, was taken to New London and was being brought from there to Providence this morning for Federal disposal. Schooner and cargo were valued at more than $100,000.

When the vessel was seized, the crew leaped over the side and escaped in the darkness.

DECISION SOON ON B.C. GRAIN RATES
Rail Charges on Shipments For Consumption in Province Studied by Board

Vancouver, Sept. 9.—Decision on British Columbia's application for removal of the domestic scale of rates on grain coming West for consumption will not be rendered prior to a determination of the general railway freight rate situation, according to a letter received to-day by the Vancouver Board of Trade from Hon. H. A. McKown, chairman of the Federal Board of Railway Commissioners.

The communication came in reply to a request for early decision made by the board shortly after the commission ordered export rates amended on the basis of equalization.

Mr. McKown takes the position that the seasonal movement of export grain demanded early action, while the same element of urgency is not present in the case of domestic grain rates. The same applies to express rates, upon which the board had asked a judgment.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—The committee of the World's Poultry Congress will meet in this city next Friday to make final arrangements for the third meeting of the World's Poultry Congress, which will take place in Canada shortly at a time and place to be determined. The meeting of the committee will mark the commencement of activities in connection with the biggest international event in connection with the poultry industry that has been staged on the American continent. World poultry congresses are held every three years, the first having been held at The Hague in 1921, the second in Barcelona, Spain, in 1924. Canada has the honor of entertaining the delegates to the third congress.

Arrangements for the congress are in the hands of a committee, composed of the Federal and Provincial Ministers of Agriculture, leading poultrymen, trade association and public men. The executive of this committee is: Honorary chairman, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture; chairman, Dr. J. H. Griedale, Federal Deputy Minister of Agriculture; F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandry, vice chairman and general director of the congress; W. F. Garland, M.P., Ottawa; W. A. Brown, chief of the poultry division of the Dominion livestock branch; T. H. Blair, Ottawa; J. R. Harkin, Commissioner of Canadian National Parks, Ottawa; R. J. C. Stead, Director of Poultry, Immigration and Colonization Department, Ottawa, and R. S. Peck, Director of Canadian Government Motion Picture Bureau, Ottawa. With Ernest Rhodes, Assistant Chief of the Poultry Division of the Dominion Livestock Branch, as congress secretary.

MANY NOTIFIED

The International Association of Poultry Instructors and Investigators has already sent announcements for the purpose of the congress to over 100 governments, and the British Colonial Office has also sent a similar announcement to fifty-six colonies and dependencies.

The president of the International Association, Edward Brown, F.L.S., of London, England, is now in Canada for the purpose of attending the congress committee meeting. These world poultry congresses are held for the purpose of bringing together poultry instructors and investigators in order to discuss world poultry problems, and to display exhibits which will represent the more important phases of the poultry industry. The congress is open to delegates representing any government, teaching and research institutions, and organizations engaged in the production and distribution, and also to private individuals.

GOVERNORS GUESTS IN QUEBEC CITY

Officials of the Provinces Gathered at Invitation of Québec Lieut.-Governor

Quebec, Sept. 9.—Unity on the part of all the provinces of Canada was the keynote of the addresses delivered last night at the reception tendered by Hon. N. Perceux, Lieutenant-Governor of Québec, to the Lieutenant-Governors of Canada. Among the speakers were Sir James Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba; Lieut.-Col. Cockshutt, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Premier Taschereau of Québec. Premier Taschereau, after welcoming the lieutenants-governors and explaining the hopes and ambitions of the French-Canadian people, said: "Our motto is unity in diversity and nowhere in this Dominion will you find a better Canadian spirit and a more friendly and sympathetic feeling toward those who will reciprocate with us. British Columbia's perpetual summer, the prairie wheat, Ontario's industrial possibilities, and Québec's natural resources and the Maritime Provinces' sea and forest wealth, if united, are the foundations of our great future."

Our models, all carefully selected, are representative of the mode of the moment, from well-known makers, such as Kilpin, Peggy, Gainsborough, Cavendish, Miss Bobs and others.

Amongst the most favored shades are Chinese blue, wild aster, pansy, rose-leaf, alpine green, morocane, Kobe, blondine, copper lustre, flint, and last but not the least popular, black.

Particularly worthy of mention are the smart modes, in becoming colors and black, with ample headsizes for the mature, though youthful woman, at moderate prices, ranging from, $4.95 to $8.95

Austrian Velours in all colors and black. Priced from $4.95 to $15.00
—Millinery, First Floor

Exquisite Modes which interpret the new fashion for elaboration with a perfection of feminine grace, are now being shown as our suggestions for a modest Fall and Winter wardrobe. The new feeling for flare and movement of line, is shown in many a graceful godet, a flying scarf or a skirt that is frankly full.

It would be difficult to form a mental conception of our display of popularly designed Fall Coats, made from leading materials of the season. Every new touch of beauty and dignifying grace that fashion has applied, is here in evidence, while trimmings of fur, embroidery, braiding and self material have been distributed where most appropriate.

Shoes are shown in every style and combination of leathers that have been introduced for the path of fashion this Fall and Winter. Fascinating shoes only recently unpacked. Oxfords and pumps for street and afternoon wear, and dressier models for evening.

The woman who chooses her afternoon or evening gown from the assembly now on display, may rest assured that the style is correct as well as the newest among the modes of the season.

Connie Mack's Team at Last Wins After Dropping Twelve Straight Games

Pittsburg Loses and Giants Gain Half a Game in the National League

New York, Sept. 9.—Connie Mack's men took up their almost hopeless pennant fight with lighter spirits to-day. Their twelve-game losing streak has been broken. They beat Washington yesterday 6-4, but the Senators were still eight games ahead.

The New York Americans also got back in the winning column yesterday by beating the Red Sox 5-4 and 5-4.

Detroit crowded into fourth place alongside St. Louis as 15 hits blundered the Browns 11-1. Chicago's hold on third place was endangered by the Tiger rush as the White Sox fell before Cleveland four to two.

Pittsburg's lead in the National League was cut to eight games by Grover Alexander of the Cubs, who scattered 12 hits so well that Chicago was able to win 3 to 2.

GIANTS PICK UP

New York picked up only half a game, however, by getting no better than an even break with the Braves. After home runs by Kelly and Frisch had clinched the opener 3-2, the Giants lost the second 5-4.

The Cardinals' grip on fifth place was loosened by a defeat from Cincinnati 10-1. Brooklyn fortified itself in fourth place and buried the Phillies deeper in the cellar by winning twice 1 to 0 and 4 to 3.

INJURIES FOLLOW
OPENING PRACTICE
IN EASTERN RUGBY

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The first casualties of the local rugby season were sustained last night when Argonauts turned out for practice. Like McLean, former Balm Beach wing, received a kick in the back and was forced to retire temporarily, while Bill Wiley, formerly of Winnipeg, received a similar injury. Fifty candidates were put through a strenuous drill.

Dempsey Will Go
Into Mountains
To Get In Shape

Champion Will First Visit Chicago to Straighten Out Wills Match

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion pugilist, said here last night he would leave Thursday for Chicago to attend a meeting September 17 at which the whole question of his meeting Harry Wills for the title will be thrashed out.

Dempsey, who boxed two exhibition matches here Monday, said that most of the talk about his attitude toward Wills and his relations with Jack Kearns, his former manager, was nonsense.

Dempsey said he intended to fight Wills next July 4 and as far as he is concerned, the matter is settled. If other persons interested can complete the arrangements Dempsey said he would return to Los Angeles after the Chicago meeting and go into the mountains for several months to harden up his muscles.

As to Kearns, Dempsey said: "He hasn't a leg to stand on and he knows it." The fighter said he was his own manager and would continue to be his own manager and that was all there was to it.

Four Elevens Will Most Likely Compete
In Junior Football

Four teams will most likely compete in the Junior Football League this year. At a most enthusiastic meeting held last night in the Veterans of France club-room, the Esquimaux, Oaklands and Saanich Thistles Clubs were represented. It is expected that a team from The Colonist will also enter.

It was decided to call for entries on Tuesday, September 15, and to open the season on September 25. The next meeting will be held in the Veterans of France on Tuesday, September 15.

Frenchmen Facing
Holders of Davis
Trophy To-morrow

For First Time in 21 Years Tricolor Appears in Challenge Rounds

Tilden and Johnston in Singles; Richards and Williams in Doubles

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—Tuning up for their battle for international tennis supremacy this week-end, all members of the United States and French Davis Cup teams practiced yesterday at the Germantown Cricket Club.

Fresh from their sensational triumph over the Australians at Forest Hills, the French ace, Jean Borotra and Rene Lacoste, took the courts soon after the quartette of Americans, Tilden, Johnston, Richards and Captain Williams, had finished a brisk workout.

France's hopes have been lifted to a higher peak by their advance to the challenge round for the first time since the wearers of the tricolor entered the Davis Cup competition in 1904.

While America's lineup is believed to have been decided upon, with Tilden and Johnston bearing the singles burden and Richards and Williams slated for the doubles task, no official selection has yet been made.

The singles lineup for to-morrow will be disclosed officially late today while the doubles combination for Friday's match will not be announced until twenty-four hours before the match.

No Upsets in First Round of Canadian
Women's Tournament

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The second round of the championship flight of the Canadian ladies' closed golf championship was completed this morning and the third round will be played this afternoon with the semi-finals to-morrow and finals on Friday.

Second round results: Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto, defeated Mrs. H. P. Inlin, Ottawa, 7 and 6.

Mrs. F. Handsonbody, Quebec, defeated Miss Sharpe, Ottawa, 6 and 5.

Miss Dora Virtue, Whitlock, defeated Miss Gage, Lambton, 3 and 2.

Miss Helen Paget, Ottawa, defeated Miss Holcomb, Ottawa, 3 and 1.

Miss Brownlee, Rivermouth, defeated Miss Laird, Toronto, on the nineteenth hole.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—Contrary to established custom there were no real surprises in the first round of match play for the Canadian ladies' golf championship which is being held at the Rivermouth Club here.

The longest match of the day was that between Miss Dora Virtue of Whitlock, runner-up in the ladies' Quebec championship this year, and Miss Evelyn Mills of York Downs. It developed into a twenty-hole affair before the Toronto lady admitted defeat.

The other two prolonged matches were between Toronto players and both terminated at the nineteenth. Mrs. Sidney Jones of the Toronto Golf Club, winning from Miss Katherine Christie of Lambton, and Miss Margaret Laird, defeating her clubmate, Miss Margaret Walker, Toronto.

Mrs. Irene Brydges, St. Charles Country Club, Winnipeg, the only Western entrant, was eliminated yesterday by Mrs. W. G. Moore of Toronto Golf Club, 4 up and 3 to play.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—Seven seeded players in the women's middle states tennis championship found their way to the fourth round yesterday at the Philadelphia Cricket Club. They included Miss E. GERMAN BONDS
TO BE REVALUED

Montreal, Sept. 9.—Heinrich Schaafhausen, acting consul-general for Germany, has issued a statement to the Canadian Press dealing with the question of re-valuation of German bonds.

In a communication accompanying the memorandum, Mr. Schaafhausen points out that the issuers of industrial bonds, according to the German re-valuation act, which has been promulgated, are obliged to publish in German newspapers notices calling upon holders of debentures for notification of ownership, and that these notices must be published before September 31, 1925.

The notifications of ownership have to be filed within a month from date of publication of the notices.

"It would appear to be in the interests of Canadian holders, therefore, if they filed their notices of ownership immediately," Mr. Schaafhausen states.

"In virtue of the German re-valuation act dated July 16, 1925, industrial and similar bonds have been revalued irrespective as to whether they are ordinary or mortgage bonds. This re-valuation is based on the gold value of the mark on certain dates set forth in a schedule forming part of the re-valuation act and the holders of such bonds are entitled to 16 per cent. of the said gold mark value. The act applies to bonds and debentures which bear interest or value instead of bearing interest, are redeemable at a premium; these bonds and debentures may be bearer securities or securities negotiated by endorsement, and cover those issued by individuals, associations, partnerships or corporations. These industrial securities should not be confused with government and municipal securities.

"Those who have acquired debentures or bonds as described above, before July 1, 1920, and who have retained ownership of the said securities until the time set forth below for filing their claims are referred to in the act as 'old owners' and are entitled, as July 1, 1925, in addition to the re-valuation of their securities as set forth above to participate in the net profits of the person or corporation having issued the securities and in the proceeds of the liquidation in case of winding up. This right to participate in the profits, the decision of which is provided for in the act, is limited to and applies to an amount of 10 per cent. of the gold mark value of the securities, established as indicated above."

Wall Street
TO DAYLast Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Sept. 9 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Sharp rallies in various sections of the list featured the day's dealings though the momentum appeared to gather its greatest way at the expense of the shorts.

The news touching on industry was a constructive flavor, particularly to the carling figures, which showed a high record of all time, but the oil figures were less encouraging, production pointing toward a downward trend. Tin ore was pointed out as improvement in the demand from the carriers, but the general consumption of steel is still in developing, though of chief interest at the moment appears to be the unfilled tonnage statement of the U.S. Steel Corporation to be published to-morrow, and the tonnage statement of the same company is looking for a decrease slightly over 50,000 tons.

The high renewal money rate of five per cent, brought out some early offerings, but these were well absorbed. The outside demand for stocks appears to be dwindling, and from this source more cautious attitude is very noticeable in following the buying side of general list even though some specialties are still favored with professional element.

New York, Sept. 9 (By R. C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Wire)—The evening edition of The Wall Street Journal says:

After a hesitant start, stocks developed pronounced strength to-day, breaking entirely away from the irregularity which characterized the preceding session due to the run-up in call money to 5 per cent, the highest level since the mid-year stringency, money later eased off to 4 1/2 per cent, and the speculative community speedily forgot its apprehension regarding credit conditions when impressive demand sprang up in the investment and high grade industrial.

In the case of the rails, impetus was given the upward by the prospect of early development of a constructive character relative to the dividend policy of a number of important roads, which were stimulated by the favorable tenor of the trade reports from steel centers and by the latest freight traffic statistics, which demonstrated that the railroads' business turnover was still running at record proportions.

Steel was featured in the industrial, finally pushing into new high ground for the year after disappointing the trading fraternity on several occasions. Good sized gains were also scored by Chrysler, General Motors and Dodge Brothers, while activity at rising prices went ahead aggressively in various oil and metal shares.

Call money renewed at 5 per cent, the highest opening rate since July 2, when it stood at 6 per cent, and conditions were eliminated.

Kansas City Southern was actively bought by banking interests, the stock has been selling out of line in view of the favorable rate of earnings, and taking into consideration the fact that K.C.S. has large mill interests stimulates the growing power.

Upward tendencies were well maintained in the banking, steel and recovered the ground yielded in the previous session, coming back on the heels of the month's loss, and the filled tonnage statement for August, due Thursday, would make the most favorable showing since the monthly movement in forward contract began with the February report.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 9 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat—Impressed by the strength in Northern markets in face of increasing receipts of new crop grain, the local trade saw good support throughout and lifted prices irregularly, with the close near the top. Evening up prior to the Government report in the final minutes failed to depress the market. There were intimations that a healthier foreign demand prevailed for Canadian grain and reports from Winnipeg market indicated that excellent absorption was in evidence. Pressure in the local market waned as the session progressed.

The run of winter grain continues light and premiums in these markets held steady to firm. The market seemed developing healthy symptoms, an occurrence not unusual as the big movement of grain gets well under way. However, there is enough uncertainty in situation at the moment to call for considerable caution and until further developments continue to advise a trading position.

Chicago, Sept. 9 (B. C. Bond Corporation's direct wire)—Wheat opened lower on the disappointing cables but on the break there was considerable short coverings and market rallied sharply. The short covering was attributed to the continued strength in the Northwest where movement is not having the depressing effect that has been anticipated. The Government report to be issued to-day is expected to be bearish. Would only make purchases on the ship setbacks.

Corn was strong on commission house buying. This due to short covering on the Government report, which is expected by the trade to be bullish. It is said the report will not reflect the damage by heat and droughts.

"HEARTS ADRIFT"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

(Copyright by Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

ONE OF THE VICTIMS

Alma Cartwright sat in the garden that flanked her big house on the Square.

A high, red, brick wall concealed it from the street where busy traffic flowed ceaselessly up and down. To the passerby on the outside, it gave no hint of the charm and quiet that lay behind it. But within its jealous concealment was a gem of beauty and restfulness.

Ivy hid the austerity of the red bricks—ivy that had etched itself as delicately as under the pen of an artist. Several spreading shade trees gave protection from the Summer sun. Their trunks were bent as though they too wished to preserve the privacy of the garden by not rearing their green foliage above the walls for the curious gaze of passers-by. A flagged walk, flanked by old-fashioned flowers, luxuriant in full Midsummer bloom, led from the balcony outside the drawing-room, and, at its end, in the cool shade, a wicker garden set with gay crotone cushions, offered rest and comfort.

This was the playground of Alma's children. There was a swing in one corner and the green sword was worn smooth in spots.

Alma spent many afternoons there, happily idle, watching her children at a book reading unopened in her lap. With a mother's jealousy, she wanted to keep them children as long as possible, and she shut her eyes against the fact that they were growing up. On this particular afternoon, when blackness closed down like a hovering bird on her life, her boy lay flat on his stomach under a tree, busy with a compass and T-square, drawing intricate designs on a piece of paper. The girl was curled in the swing, a book in her lap. Her absorbed eyes never left the printed page. Once and awhile she reached up a hand to toss the curls back from her neck.

Alma watched them with eyes that showed no trace of the turmoil in her heart. She sat very quietly in her chair while the breeze lifted her ash-blond hair from a forehead wet with dew that did not come from the Summer heat.

For, in her lap, under a book was Cartwright's letter, mailed before his boat had sailed, telling her that he was going away to Europe, with Madge Bannister, the woman he loved.

At first, when she had opened and read it, Alma had believed that it was only a hoax, a threat perhaps, to force her to yield the consent she had refused. But, gradually, the truth of it was forced upon her. He had deserted her! He had run away with another man's wife. She was alone, husbandless, with her two children!

She looked at them, happily engaged, secure, ignorant of the fact that they had a father who had done more than abandon them—one who had brought scandal and disgrace upon them.

They had only her now. And she had no one. She must fight her fight alone. It was she who must suffer the disgrace. It was she who must endure the glances of those who knew. It was she who must know, even in the security of her garden, that passers-by pointed to her house and whispered the details of the scandal over and over.

There could be no more school for her children. Among their mates, they would be marked.

For her, there could be no more contact with her friends and acquaintances. She couldn't endure their pity, nor the whispers that would follow her.

Cartwright had chosen the easiest way. He was going where he was unknown, where it would take a long time for gossip to follow him, where perhaps it wouldn't matter, if it did. Madge Bannister was protected, too, after a fashion.

But her husband, like Alma herself, must live and face the brunt of it. In his letter, Cartwright asked for a divorce, demanded it, in fact.

"You have no right to force us, Madge and me, to live like outcasts," he had written. "Whatever your beliefs, whatever your vindictiveness against me, you must see that the time has come to yield. You cannot be the woman you claim to be if you force another woman to live an outcast's life. She hasn't deliberately wronged you. She didn't take me from you. Love came unbidden, perhaps even unwelcome, to both of us. We can't struggle against our destinies."

Alma reread the letter, although she knew it already by heart. Then, with dragging steps, she went to the telephone and called Bannister. Please forgive an unusual request from one who knows you very slightly, but would you be good enough to call to see me as soon as you are disengaged?

THE SECOND VICTIM

When Bannister left the hospital that afternoon, he drove directly to the Cartwrights.

Alma Cartwright's telephone message had surprised him but it never occurred to him that her summons was not a professional, even though he had never been her physician. The wording of her request puzzled him a trifle but no inkling of the real truth crossed his mind.

He was ushered into the drawing room, cool and dim in spite of the hot sunlight, outside. Through the open French windows he had the vista of the secluded garden surrounded by its red brick, ivy covered walls. He saw the old fashioned flower beds, the flagstone walk, nothing in the sunlight. In the swing under the shade trees he glimpsed at the Cartwright children.

When Alma Cartwright entered the room, he was startled at her appearance. Though he had seen her very few times in his life and he remembered her to be slender and extremely pale, he was unprepared for the drawn whiteness of her face. Her eyes seemed to be burning as if with fever. That she was quite evidently ill was his instant professional diagnosis.

But the hand she offered him was not hot with fever. The icy touch of her fingers fairly chilled him.

"Will you be seated, Doctor Bannister?"

She accepted the chair he drew forward but turned it slightly so that her back was to the light.

"It was good of you to come so quickly," she said quietly, "and you must forgive me for calling you in the midst of your busy day, but this is a critical situation which you and I have to deal with and I think it is best that no time be lost."

He waited, puzzled, for her to explain.

She was silent for a moment as if summoning all her strength to go on. Her head with its heavy coils of hair and her eyes bent on her interlaced fingers that moved nervously, ceaselessly in her lap.

"I have a very difficult task before me, Doctor Bannister," she continued, "and I trust that you will make it as easy for me as possible. I had hoped that there was something I need not explain, but your attitude shows me plainly that you are ignorant of the situation. I dare say you know, Doctor, that your wife and my husband have seen a great deal of each other this past Spring and Summer."

Bannister looked uncomfortable. Was he up against the proposition of a jealous wife? he wondered.

"I know that Madge and Mr. Cartwright have attended a great many of the same functions," he answered. "We all move in the same set, you know. It is unfortunate that my work has detained me often and Madge has gone places alone. At those times, I believe, Mr. Cartwright acted as her escort, but I think that was due to the arrangements of hostesses rather than to any special preference of theirs."

Again Alma Cartwright was silent. She saw clearly that he was completely unsuspecting. It made her task more difficult. It was striking at a trustful heart.

"Then, as I understand it, doctor, you are not aware of the fact that Mrs. Bannister and my husband frequently saw each other alone by appointment."

He lifted startled eyes and stared at her unbelievably. Then a little flush mounted to his cheeks and a flash of anger, quickly suppressed, showed in his eyes.

"Pardon me, Mrs. Cartwright, but I am afraid you are exaggerating a trivial episode. I recall that your husband came to tea at my house one afternoon when I was away but my wife told me about it. There was no suggestion of a clandestine call.

"You know of no other times," she asked gently.

"None," he declared. "There may have been other times of course. Perhaps they may have lunched or had tea elsewhere without my knowledge, but I can assure you, Mrs. Cartwright, that there was no harm meant. Madge is impulsive and young and reckless. She is fond of life and gaiety and, being innocent herself at heart, sometimes does foolish things without realizing the interpretation that others put upon them. I am afraid that I shall have to ask you to forgive her if her actions have offended or distressed you in any way."

"What a man! What a good man!" Alma thought to herself.

"How fine of him not to suggest to her that it was her husband who was to blame in allowing Madge to do the things which compromise her, or more than that, incited her to folly."

Aloud she said: "It's too late, doctor. You and I have both been blind. You more than I, because I knew before and refused to act. Will you read this letter which I received from my husband to-day."

Surprised and with a little apprehension beginning to dawn in his eyes, he took the letter she offered and went to the window.

Sitting quietly in her chair, she watched him as he read and saw him slowly crumple as though the heart and soul, the very life of him was being shriveled in a devastating flame.

To be continued.

99-YEAR LEASE EXPIRING; MAY MAKE WOMAN RICH

Too Good to be True, She Says, With Millions Looming Before Her

Olean, N.Y., Sept. 8.—Mrs. Pierce refused to believe it. But the way all the neighbors are taking on over her, it seems that everyone else believes.

This gray-haired woman, Mrs. Frank W. Pierce, living right here in Adams street, and working hard all her life to raise her four children, has the prospect of coming into a fortune of around $20,000,000. It will mean dispossession of some of New York City's richest real estate holders.

"I won't let myself think about it," she said.

for a minute until it is all settled and the money is in my hands," says Mrs. Pierce. "It may be that what the lawyers say is right. But if I let myself be carried up on these hopes, I'll have too far to fall when I'm disappointed."

"And one thing about it, I've got along this far without being a millionaire and I can keep on doing it," she said.

Mrs. Pierce hadn't allowed herself even the luxury of a little trip from home to visit her family until last Fourth of July. Then she went to a reunion over at Bartlesville, Pa. During the visit she heard read the will of her great-grandfather, William Van Horn, a Hollander, and an early settler in New York City.

This disclosed that one of the ancestral farms, instead of having passed from possession entirely, merely had been leased for 99 years. The lease was made just a century ago.

The farm, according to the will was near the corner of Wall Street and Broadway—to-day one of the most valuable real estate locations on earth. The land which cost a few hundred dollars, now is estimated to be worth around $80,000,000.

The direct heirs of William Van Horn are Mrs. Pierce, her two sisters and her brother. They are Mrs. Hattie Inman of Utica, Mrs. Maude Wilkover of Portville and Louis Van Horn of Portville. The claim is being handled by Joseph F. Coupe, a lawyer of Utica, and his only comment is: "I believe I shall be able to substantiate their right to a share in the fortune."

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Quick Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet—Famous But Simple Old English Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition—Banishes Acid—Eating Distress

It you are a victim of Stomach Troubles, Sourness, Pain or Bloating, you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system by following unnecessary starvation diets. Never hurry your meal or overeat of anything, but within reason most folks may eat what they like—keep their stomach sweet, clean and active and free from the souring acids that hinder and paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a small amount of pure Bismuth Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless and inexpensive form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bismuth Magnesia, which may be obtained from any drugist for only a few cents, will easily convince you of the great value of this old English recipe.

Be sure and get BISMUTH MAGNESIA—not a laxative. (Adv.)

COUNCIL DISCARDS SCHEME TO LOWER DEBT PROVISION

Alderman Marchant Fails in Fight to Broaden Loan Repayment Burden

Aldermen last night refused to be attracted by a tax reduction of three or more mills yearly for nine years, and decisively turned down Alderman Marchant's proposal for consolidation of sinking funds and limitation of the yearly appropriations for this service to $750,000.

Alderman Marchant stated that his proposals were but slight changes from earlier calculations and suggestions by Alderman Woodward. He appealed for tax relief for present property owners as a means of preventing further reversions of lands to the city for unpaid taxes.

In an exhaustive report on Alderman Marchant's proposals, City Controller Macdonald pointed out that while a large saving would accrue to taxpayers in the next nine years, the scheme would eventually cost the citizens over $2,500,000 more than the present method of levying, each year, the amounts required by the separate loan by-laws.

Limitation of the annual interest and sinking fund appropriation to $750,000 would save over $250,000 next year, as an example, but in twenty years the citizens would be paying over $400,000 more than the present system contemplates.

Alderman Marchant and Woodward strenuously objected to comments suggesting the scheme affected repayment of the loans, pointing out that only extension of the liability to bear on future generations was in view.

FORESAW FAILURE

City Controller Macdonald expressed the opinion that the Legislature would not grant the required authority on two grounds, first, that for some years, despite probable in sinking fund and interest, the sinking fund protection for long term issues will be entirely used up in payment of earlier maturities, and secondly, the loss by-law specifically provides for an annual sinking fund levy.

Alderman Marchant could only win Alderman Woodward and Woodward to his support when the vote was taken, despite a long and warm appeal for lessened immediate tax burdens.

TAX EXEMPTION FOR ELEVATOR TOO LONG ALDERMAN PROTESTS

Alderman Marchant Urges Short-term Exemption For New Industry

Alderman Marchant last night protested to the City Council against the term of the tax exemption proposed to be granted the new Panama Pacific Terminal elevator on Ogden Point Docks, on which the ratepayers will vote on Thursday next.

Sixty-three years is too great a term of exemption, he maintained, advocating a proposal that ample encouragement to the concern would be given if the total exemption were fixed at five years, with a graduated increase as the venture proves profitable.

Alderman Marchant brought the matter before the Council as a question of privilege, not having been present at the session of the Council which authorized the exemption and the submission of the by-law to the ratepayers. He pointed out that the entire civic equipment of Victoria will be at the disposal of the elevator company, in precisely the same manner as available to the taxpayer, and he did not consider such a lengthy tax exemption term as a justifiable concession.

Alderman Marchant believed that provision that taxes should not be collectable until earnings passed six per cent. annually was a preferable arrangement for all concerned.

HUSON'S BAY PREPARES FOR BOOMING WEST

New Chairman Here Sees Good Season; Tells of Plans For Increased Population

G. W. Allan, K.C., of Winnipeg, successor to Sir Augustus Nanton, chairman of the Hudson's Bay Company, is in Victoria to-day looking over the company's big store and its other properties here.

Because of the good-sized wheat crop and the profitable prices at which it is being marketed, business will be good throughout the West this season, benefiting the coast cities particularly, Mr. Allan said. He is also a director of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Great West Life and other corporations.

Dealing with the operations of the Hudson's Bay Company and its great revenue and construction of fairways and putting greens."

"In December, 1924, the Hudson's Bay Company announced the resumption of its pre-war programme and since then the progress has been made in the development of plans based upon consistent faith in the future of Canada—for example, the extension of the store in Vancouver; the commencement of a new store in Winnipeg; the acquisition of additional land in Edmonton for future extension; and the construction of a new steamer for the Arctic trade.

"The decision of the company was influenced by the rapid growth and development of the great and varied resources of British Columbia. The increase in the volume, value and diversity of agricultural products of the three prairie provinces; the general liquidation of liabilities; the cessation of needless expenditure by municipalities and their efforts during recent years towards the enforcement of economy.

"The company realizes that its own investments and the existing taxation in Canada can only be satisfactorily justified and sustained by a larger population, and in this respect feel that it reflects the general sentiment of the Dominion."

"In these circumstances the directors have undertaken, in co-operation with important steamship companies having extensive facilities for the transport of goods and passengers, the formation of a new company to deal with immigration. This company will be styled the Hudson's Bay National Overseas Settlement Limited, and the preliminary organization will be in operation early next year.

"The project has been planned before the Department of Immigration, which has expressed its approval and arrangements have been made with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Canadian National Railway for the closest co-operation."

"We should be proud of being Canadians and of Canada being a part of the British Empire," emphasized the Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie in his talk yesterday afternoon before the members of the Overseas League assembled in the tea room at Spencer's for the first meeting of the season.

Introduced by the Rev. A. G. Bolton, chairman for the occasion, Dr. Tolmie chose as his subject, "Canada and the Meaning of the British Empire," and in a concise way outlined the protection without interference, received by Canada from the Mother Country.

In the matter of trade, the proximity of the United States to Canada's trade centres, made it easy for Canada to ship her goods to the States, stated Dr. Tolmie.

Such traffic, however, meant discrimination against Canadian goods in favor of the United States. Development of British trade would eliminate valuable raw products being exploited in the South and would assist in the maintenance of Canada's railroad systems and that of the ships crossing the Atlantic to the Mother Country.

Dr. Tolmie pointed out that the Wembley Exhibition was for the purpose of showing the people of Great Britain the goods produced within the Empire. He declared it was the duty of every individual purchaser to buy as far as possible, Canadian-made goods. During the last five years, importations from the States into Canada had exceeded by a large amount the exports from Canada to that country and if that trade had been held at home or with the markets in Great Britain, the Empire would have benefited instead of our neighbors to the South.

Dr. Tolmie heartily endorsed the speech made by Sir George Foster for the development of the Canadian national spirit and urged the celebration of Dominion Day as the big Canadian holiday of the year.

Mr. Gordon, Dr. Tolmie a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the members of the Overseas League in Victoria. The afternoon was brought to a close by a violin solo, rendered artistically by Little Miss Mary Lesingham Shortt of Calgary.
